DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the drives for the aligning belt and the portioning belt, the detection means and the controller, the servomotor must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

Art Unit: 3651

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. In claims 1 and 18, the claims state that the products can be arranged in any desired portion or format. The apparatus claim states that a "detection means" and a "controller" can be used to make any array or format using first and second data. There are no details in the specification or drawings lending one the knowledge as to how this can be done. There is not mention as to how the drives are connected to or in communication with each other so that "first and second data" can be processed by the controller to align the products. RE method claim 18, it is not clear how the products can be "placed in a packaging in a clocked manner by the portioning belt". There is no detail or representation of a timing device in the specification or drawings for utilizing the "clocked manner".

4. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Art Unit: 3651

5. Claims 1-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites the limitation "it" in line 16. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 5 recites the limitation "it" in line 4. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 5 recites the limitation "the central track" in line 6. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 6 recites the limitation "it" in line 2. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 7 recites "is the same and/or or opposed" is confusing.

Claim 11 recites the limitation "the desired portion patterns and the formats" in lines 2-3. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 17 recites the limitation "the clocking of the packaging machine" in line 3. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Regarding claims 2 and 19, the phrase "preferably 90 degrees or 270 degrees" renders the claim indefinite because it is unclear whether the limitations following the phrase are part of the claimed invention. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

Claim 22 recites the limitation "the central track" in lines 5-6. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Art Unit: 3651

Claim 25 recites the limitation "it" in line 2. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. At least claims 1 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Raque et al. USP 5,088,912.

See the cover sheet of Raque clearly depicting the claimed features as best understood with regards to the confusion as outlined above by the 35 USC 112, 1st and 2nd paragraph rejections. The remaining claims have not been examined against the prior art because of the confusing nature of the claims.

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
